Do not underestimate the importance of our school results in QCS: it can be a game changer!
In a nutshell:

• Do your best in all your subjects: the gap between you and everyone else in every subject is very important

• Take QCS prep very seriously

• It’s only AFTER 2016 QCS results come out that your “best 20 semesters” is determined, SOOOO you’ll never know which of your subjects actually counted!
Caboolture State High School was established in the Caboolture area. With a student population of over 1500, it is well serviced by the Brisbane CBD.

The school is highly regarded for its achievements in academic, cultural, and educational pathways which cater for a wide range of interests. LearnIT, an innovative technology program, is provided to all students.

Welcome to our community.

<td>Alice’s Adventures in Wonderland</td>
<td>Charles Lutwidge Dodgson, using the pseudonym Lewis Carroll</td>
<td>A novel that tells the story of a girl named Alice who falls down a rabbit hole into a fantasy world populated by peculiar and anthropomorphic creatures. The tale is filled with allusions to Dodgson's friends. The tale plays with logic in ways that have given the story lasting popularity with adults as well as children. It is considered to be one of the most characteristic examples of the genre of literary fiction.</td>

<td>Orphaned Jane Eyre grows up in the home of her heartless aunt and later attends a harsh charity school, enduring loneliness and cruelty. This troubled childhood strengthens her independence and spirit, which prove necessary when she finds a position as governess at Thornfield Hall. However, when she finds love with her scornful employer, Rochester, the discovery of his terrible secret forces her to make a choice. Should she stay with him and live with the consequences, or follow her convictions, even if it means leaving the man she loves?</td>

iv) Comparative Review ('A' standard guide to genre but too long)

At first glance, pairing Leviathan by Scott Westerfeld and Tracey Kidder's Strength in What Remains may seem exceedingly strange. After all, Leviathan is an imaginative boys' own adventure set in an alternate world populated by fantastical creatures and strange machinery, while Kidder’s biographical narrative set in Burundi and later on the streets of America, is as harrowing an account of human suffering as you will ever read. What links the two together is the enormous courage of the central characters and that each of these characters experiences social isolation to an extraordinary degree. The nature of the isolation experienced, however, couldn't be more different nor could the way that the two authors treat this subject.

Leviathan, the first in a trilogy, begins in the summer of 1914, when World War I was declared. It is a very different war, however, to the one found in history books! Waged between two dominant cultures – the Clankers, who have vested everything in marvellous machinery and the Darwinists, who have entwined DNA with machines to create organic military creatures – the author launches into an alternative history where the two central characters, Deryn and Alek, are thrown together. Paradoxically they are also kept apart.

For Alek (Prince Aleksandar) his isolation is instant. Early in the book we learn his parents have been murdered and he is whisked away from home by close advisors Count Volger and Otto. A life which had been a life of privilege, was no more. As he notes after a brief foray on the streets: “(Alek) “had always impressed his tutors in Latin and Greek. But Prince Aleksandar ... could barely manage the daily language of his own people well enough to buy a newspaper” (Westerfeld 2009 p.125). Also, although he rapidly learns to master the Cyclop Stormwalker, a monstrous battle machine that he escapes on, he is trapped in this machine. While on the run, it can’t be said that Alek was completely isolated (he had both Otto and Count Volger by his side for much of the time) yet, beyond this inner circle, Alek is very much alone.

Metaphorically he is also trapped by the knowledge that he, and he alone, is the rightful

Perfume: the story of a murderer

Author: Suskind, Patrick
Publisher: Penguin
Published: 1987, London
ISBN 10: 0140126831
Description: 268 p.
Notes: Survivor, genius, perfumer, killer: this is Jean-Baptiste Grenouille. He is abandoned on the filthy streets of Paris as a child, but grows up to discover he has an extraordinary gift: a sense of smell more powerful than any other human's. Soon, he is creating the most sublime fragrances in all the city. Yet there is one odor he cannot capture. It is exquisite, magical: the scent of a young virgin. And to get it he must kill. And kill. And kill.

Online Referencing Generator

By far the easiest way to learn how to create bibliographies and do in-text referencing is to use the Online Referencing Generator.

i. Go to the Caboolture State High School website at https://cabooltureshs.eq.edu.au and click the Online Library link on the home page. Then select “School Help” and click on the Referencing link.

ii. When logging into this site, Leave the username box blank; link is currently the password. Mr Boxall will let you know if this changes.

iii. The Online Referencing Generator shows you how to both acknowledge your sources within the text of your assignment as well as how to compile a bibliography (Reference List).

iv. You can even create bibliographical entries instantly using the “Create Citation” tool.

eresources

We provide access to a large number of authoritative eresources: online journals, newspapers, magazines and websites, company information and Australian standards, legislation, music scores and recordings and encyclopedias. Much of this information in the eresources is not available freely elsewhere on the web.

What are eresources?
Confused about the terminology? Let us try to explain.

Access
All eresources can be accessed at State Library and most are also accessible 24/7 away from State Library with either an SLQ library card or a Queensland Public Library (QPL) account. Visit our Membership page to register now.

There are some eresources which are only available at State Library. Ask us for help in searching these eresources.

Legal Studies & Criminology

Australia

Please find below some useful links on the topic of Legal Studies. (DB) denotes Database.

- Administrative Appeals Tribunal
  The Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT) provides independent review of a wide range of administrative decisions made by the Australian Government and some non-government bodies. The AAT also reviews decisions of the Norfolk Island Government.

- Administrative Law (Attorney-General’s Department)
  Administrative law is the body of law that regulates government decision making. Access to review of government decisions is a key component of access to justice.

- Administrative Review Council
  The role of the Administrative Review Council is to ensure that our system of administrative review is as effective and significant in its protection of the citizen as it can be.

- AustLII (Australasian Legal Information Institute)
  Key source of Australian legal information. (DB)

- Australian law: selected websites
  This resource contains links to major Australian legal sites on the Internet organised by jurisdiction. It provides links to the websites of all commonwealth courts (federal, high and family courts of Australia) and state law resources including legislation, parliaments and courts.

- Australian State and Territory Legislation
  Links to legislation websites for Australian States and Territories.

Caboolture State High School

Caboolture State High School was opened in 1961 and was the first high school established in the Caboolture area. With a student population of around 1200, the school is located 50 minutes north of the Brisbane CBD and is well serviced by arterial roads and public transport.

The school is highly regarded by the local and wider community and has achieved outstanding achievements in academic, cultural, citizenship and sporting areas. We offer a number of unique educational pathways which cater for the diverse interests of our students, including agricultural studies. LearnIT, an information technology immersion laptop program and trade training at our federally funded College of Civil Infrastructure and Construction. We are proud of the high quality education that is provided to all our students.

Welcome to our community.
